

MANY KILLED, INJURED IN TENNESSEE TORNADO

TWISTER STARTS
LAST EVE ACROSS
THE MISSISSIPPIReports Of Toll Trickle
In Over Crippled Telephone Lines

Nashville, Tenn., March 15—(AP)—A mad March tornado lashed the Tennessee-Kentucky border from the Mississippi to the Cumberland last night and left behind it 36 known dead, more than 200 injured and property damage estimated above $1,000,000.

The twister struck early in the night after preliminary blows at the Arkansas and Missouri side of the Mississippi and moved a path of destruction from the valley to the mountains through Nashville, Harrogate, Jellico and Kingsport, Tenn., touching many small villages on the way.

Throughout the night and early today, the list of dead and injured grew as reports trickled in from the rural communities over crippled communication lines.

Nashville Hit Hard
Nashville, a city of more than 150,000 and the Tennessee Capital, felt the full force of the storm as the driving winds dipped over a fringe of hills and cut across the eastern portion of the community, bowling over houses, damaging buildings, uprooting trees and littering the streets with debris. At least eight were killed here.

Lights over the city were snapped out as power lines fell. Ambulances drove through uncertain streets to take some 100 or more injured to hospitals where physicians had to work for a time with improvised illumination.

Scores of buildings in East Nashville were leveled and the National Guard was called out to preserve order. Rescue workers with flashlights picked their way over trees and through debris in the hunt for the dead and injured. Two Negro churches and a school were wrecked. Fires added to the confusion.

First Reports Of Storm
First reports of storm damage came from northeast Arkansas and southeast Missouri. Heavy damage was reported at Caruthersville.

Then the storm headed eastward and whipped into middle Tennessee and across the state. The little town of Pruden in the coal mine country reported eight dead. In Kingsport, east Tennessee industrial center, six were killed and Jellico suffered heavy damage.

Holton, Antras, Eagan, Clairfield, Valley Creek, Fond, Newcomb, Woodridge and Proctor, all in the upper Tennessee country, were hit. Damage at Jellico was estimated at more than $100,000 and in the Clear Fork valley above $500,000.

The storm winds also reached into the blue grass country and there was hail in its wake as it spent its force apparently against the east Tennessee mountains. There were dead at Osceola, Harrogate, Mill Point and at Bellwood in the Tennessee storm area.

Red Cross In Action
Relief forces were organized quickly and the rescue work was pushed to the utmost as daylight neared. The Red Cross went into action here immediately and all policemen, firemen and city forces were ordered on duty in the stricken section of East Nashville.

There was no official estimate of damage and authorities feared an increased toll of death and destruction with the restoration of communication and the coming of daylight and further reports.

Two persons were killed in the destruction of a home at Lebanon, Tenn.

The population of the section stricken hardest by the tornado is preponderantly white.

RIVERS ON RAMPAGE
Pittsburgh, March 15—(AP)—The swirling Allegheny and Monongahela rivers continued to rise today after reaching 37 feet above flood stage and doing damage at Pittsburgh estimated at $300,000.

Continued heavy rains throughout the watershed were reported by the Weather Bureau.

With a number of boats sunk or swept away, rivermen worked throughout the night seeking craft torn loose from moorings by the swift waters.

Many cellars in the lower business district were flooded by water backed up through the sewers.

The entire fleet of the Iron City Sand & Gravel Company, valued at about $100,000, broke loose from its landing in the Monongahela and was swept over a dam. It consisted of 14 barges and six powered craft.

Heavy vessels damaged several bridge piers.

New Uniforms For State Prisoners

Joliet, Ill., March 15—(AP)—When spring comes 'round to Joliet and Stateville penitentiaries the inmates will be sartorially prepared.

Warden Frank D. Whipp today announced knaki uniforms, much lighter in weight than the old-fashioned blue ones, will be issued to the prisoners. He also announced rigid enforcement of rules prohibiting visitors.

Beer Bill Nears Congressional Approval With Favorable Report
Of Senate Finance CommitteemenIt Will Be Taken Up
After Passage Of Economy Measure

BULLETIN

Washington, March 15—(AP)—The Senate today adopted an amendment to the economy bill to prevent removal from the pension rolls of Spanish American War veterans over 62 years of age, but allowing the President to change the rates.

Washington, March 15—(AP)—The House beer bill neared final congressional approval today with a favorable report from the Senate Finance committee.

The only change made in the House bill was an amendment to legalize wine and fruit juices of 32 per cent alcoholic content, the same limitation as will apply to beer.

Heeding President Roosevelt's request for swift action on the beer legislation, the committee approved the bill without a record vote after less than an hour's consideration in executive session.

Chairman Harrison said the beer measure would be called up in the Senate immediately after the pending economy bill which he predicted would be passed today.

Debate Tomorrow
This would permit the Senate to begin debate tomorrow on the beer measure under a schedule which congressional leaders predicted would send the measure to the White House by the end of the week.

The measure would become effective 15 days after President Roosevelt's signature. As referred to the Finance committee just after the House passed it yesterday, the new beer bill would levy a $5 federal tax on each 31-gallon barrel, forbid transportation of the new liquors into dry states; leave regulatory measures up to the states permit advertising; make no provision for wines or fruit juices; become effective 15 days after being signed; require brewers, wholesalers and retailers to take out licenses costing $1,000, $50 and $20 a year respectively.

Debate Curtailed
A bar against long-winded debate today promised Senate approval of the $500,000,000 economy bill before adjournment tonight.

Passage was taken for granted by leaders of both parties. The Democrats in caucus bound themselves to vote for the bill; leading Republicans said they would support it since it was advanced as something that would maintain the credit of the government.

Some on both sides, however, were doubtful of how materially amendments might reduce the sweeping powers the measure would give to the President to cut veterans benefits and Federal salaries.

So many amendments were pending that when the Senate got into a snarl last night over Spanish War veterans benefits the Democratic leaders decided there must be some end to debate. Senator Harrison (D. Miss.) presented a request to forbid any member to talk more than 30 minutes about the bill or 15 minutes on an amendment. Nobody objected.

Several Amendments
Several amendments already had been inserted into the bill passed by the House. This makes it necessary to go back to that branch for further action.

House leaders intimated that unless Roosevelt objected to some of these Senate changes, they might be accepted without a conference between the two branches. This would remove another element tending to delay, at least temporarily, transmission of the bill to the White House.

One of the prime changes made by the Senate was sponsored by Walsh (D. Mass.). It would prevent removal from the compensation rolls of the names of World or Spanish War veterans whose disabilities resulted from service.

New York, March 15—(AP)—Scores of leading shares on the New York Stock Exchange swept up $2 to more than $11 higher today in a spectacular rally that greeted resumption of trading after the banking holiday.

A rush of short covering, especially aggressive in the afternoon, gave the market one of its sharpest rallies in several years.

Traders who had been caught with short positions over the period of the suspension, or since March 3, found themselves tightly trapped and prices bounded up swiftly when these operators at last tempted to buy back stocks they had previously sold.

STATE ABANDONS
IMPROVEMENT OF DIXON STREETSDrops Projects Here Because Of Lack Of Building Funds

The state Department of Public Works and Buildings at Springfield has abandoned projects for the improvement of two Dixon streets which are now routes for state highways, according to a letter received by Mayor Dixon from Chief Highway Engineer E. Lieberman, as follows:

"On February 18, 1932, this department informed you that the state desired to reconstruct routes 6 and 26 on North Galena avenue from Everett street to the river and on route 2 on Second street from Artesian Place to Steele avenue, and requested you to inform us whether the city desired to widen either of these projects.

The city was not able to go ahead with widening on either of these projects. We were informed of this fact too late in the year to prepare plans and perform any work.

"We now find ourselves facing 1933 with our funds for new construction work practically exhausted, and it is therefore necessary that we limit all new work to locations where immediate improvement is absolutely necessary.

"The location on North Galena avenue between Everett and the river would require revision whenever the bridge over the Rock river on Galena avenue is revised, and therefore this improvement is not extremely urgent at this time. The pavement on Second street between Artesian Place and Steele avenue is in fair condition, and better than in many locations throughout our system. Therefore, the commitments given in our letter of February 18, 1932 are cancelled, and this department will perform no work at these two locations in 1933."

Mayor Dixon cited the attention of the council to certain figures which he had obtained from the tax books at the court house. Taxes to be collected by the city of Dixon in 1933, he told the commissioners, were 17 per cent less than last year. In 1932 the total taxes extended for all city purposes amounted to $133,854.47 while the collections this spring will amount to $111,219.03, representing a reduction over last year of $22,635.42. The total tax for Dixon township this year, according to the mayor's figures, amounted to $374,633.28 of which sum $111,219.03 would be paid to the city, leaving $263,414.25 to be expended for other township purposes.

The mayor cited further figures showing the financial condition of the city taken from the records of City Treasurer F. K. Tribou. The cash balance at the close of March, of this year, showed a balance of $26,876.64 with miscellaneous funds amounting to $17,872.46, making a total of $44,749.10. Local improvements, including bonds due May 1, amounting to $61,767.80 making a total of cash in the city treasury of $105,516.90.

Commissioner Loftus told the council that he favored an inventory of all departments of the city to be filed in the City Clerk's office and asked that the city engineer conduct a survey and compile a record of all lots and properties acquired by the city through delinquent assessments.

Residents' Quarters
Mayor Dixon again introduced the subject of providing a place in the city building for the accommodation of residents' quarters.

Lighted Play

Are Discussed

Decision on Proposals
May Be Made At A Meeting Soon

A plan to provide flood lighted grounds in Dixon for the playing of soft ball games during the summer months, and accommodating horse shoe courts, which was suggested at a meeting of those interested in these sports at the city hall Thursday, March 23, it was announced today. At that time sponsors of the plan will meet with members of the city council and the park board to attempt to work out a plan whereby the public of Dixon and vicinity may be entertained during the coming summer.

The plan, it was stated today, has been given a thorough trial in other cities smaller in population than Dixon, and has proven very successful. It has been suggested that suitable fields be secured on both the north and south sides of the river to be used for these purposes. With the installation of the lighting system, it is also planned to stage band concerts during the summer and when the fields are not in use they can be used as public playgrounds by the children. Any who are interested in the proposed plan is invited to attend this meeting, which will precede the organization of the soft ball leagues for next summer.

FOUR GENERATIONS

Four generations of one family were represented in a party of tourists, enroute from Indiana to Des Moines, Iowa, who stopped at the Dixon Airport grill Tuesday afternoon for lunch. The youngest was 14 years of age, the eldest 103.

ORCHESTRA REHEARSAL

The weekly rehearsal of the Dixon Philharmonic orchestra will be held in the music room at the high school building tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock instead of at the city hall. The third movement of Haydn's Sunrise Symphony will be worked on.

DIXONITE PICTURED

Ripley's "Believe It or Not" cartoon in this morning's Chicago Herald-Examiner is of special interest to Dixonites in that it pictures Jeremiah Hess of this city as one of the two oldest twin veterans of the Civil War, who are 88 years old today.

DOGS ARE SCARCE

City Dog Catcher Charles Meyers has established a permanent dog pound at the city dump grounds north of the city and just south of the Plum Hollow golf course. He has also secured the necessary equipment with which to carry on his duties and in the short time he has been engaged in this work, the population of stray canines on the streets of the city has materially decreased.

SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS

City Clerk Blake C. Grover announced today that collections for special assessments were now being made at his office in the city hall. In another ten days these delinquent special assessments will be turned over to County Treasurer S. D. Schrock for collection, which will result in an extra penalty being added. Those obligated are urged to make payment as early as possible and avoid the penalty.

OBJECTION OVERRULED

Judge Leach in the county court late yesterday afternoon overruled a motion filed by Ward, Ward & Schuerman of Sterling objecting to inheritance tax adjustments in the estate of the late Nathan A. Petrie of Ashton, the court holding that the inheritance tax had been settled. The action was taken before a partial distribution is made by the executors of the estate among certain residuary legatees residing in Parish, N. Y.

Local Bankers Hopeful They Can
Reopen For Business Before End
Of Week; No Intimation ReceivedSeveral Institutions
In This Part Of State are Open

Early this afternoon Dixon banks were still without word as to when they might resume unrestricted business, in which position they had lots of company throughout the nation. The bankers and their depositors are hopeful the permission will be forthcoming soon, at least before the end of the week.

Among banks in Illinois which were permitted to open today were:

Batavia National Bank, First National Bank, Batavia; Second National Bank, Belvidere; First National Bank, Dundee; Elgin National, Union National and First National, Elgin; Farmers National, Geneseo; First National and State Bank of Geneva; Geneva; LaSalle National Bank & Trust Co., LaSalle; First National, Manlius; National Bank of Mendota; Mendota; Moline National, Moline; Second National, Monmouth; First National, Ottawa; Citizens First National, Princeton; Farmers National, Prophetstown; Illinois National, Springfield; St. Charles National, St. Charles; Wheaton Trust & Savings, Wheaton; Yorkville National, Yorkville; Home State, Crystal Lake; Elgin City Banking Co., Elgin; State Bank of Freeport, Freeport; Farmers & Mechanics, Galesburg; Peoples State Savings, Kewanee; State Bank of Kirkland; Springfield Marine, Springfield.

Chicago, March 15—(AP)—The banking business of the seventh Federal Reserve district began to take on an aspect of normalcy today with the reopening of 336 banks in five states.

Officials of the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank worked until an early hour this morning compiling the list of banks which would be permitted to resume operations today for the first time since President Roosevelt proclaimed a national moratorium.

Additions were made to the list of banks meeting reopening requirements up until the opening hour of business today. Federal Reserve officials announced. Other reopenings would be announced for tomorrow, they said, as they raced against time to check institutions still closed.

Today's reopenings in the district, comprising Iowa and parts of Illinois, Wisconsin, Indiana and Michigan, brought the number of banks operating under permission of the Federal Reserve to 395.

77 State Banks Open
Seventy-seven state banks in Illinois were permitted to reopen today for unrestricted operations by State Auditor Edward J. Barrett.

Pausing in his task of scrutinizing institutions closed in Illinois by the state-wide holiday declared by Governor Horner and the national banking moratorium of President Roosevelt, Barrett said "other institutions would be given consideration as soon as it can be done."

"We are allowing these banks to reopen for business just as fast as it is possible," he said, "but we are also making certain that they are in condition to operate."

"In the meantime, I want to emphasize again the fact that if a bank does not reopen today no reflection whatsoever is cast on its condition of solvency."

Extend Tax Limit
Many of the banks which awaited the signal for opening today play an important part in the movement of products of the soil, and it was the fact that so many of these smaller banks necessarily were delayed in reopening that prompted the Chicago Board of Trade and the New Orleans Cotton Exchange to postpone the renewal of trading. Much of the business of these two exchanges reaches into the agricultural areas served by the smaller banks.

One effect of the national bank holiday for which many thousands expressed gratitude today was a postponement of the time when income tax returns must be made. The time for filing ordinarily would have expired at midnight tonight, but the Bureau of Internal Revenue announced last night that the date had been changed to March 31.

This was due to the realization by government officials that many taxpayers have found it difficult, and in some cases impossible, to complete arrangements for payment of their tax due to the bank holiday. The only stipulation made in the postponement is that taxpayers who wait until after midnight must pay six per cent interest for the two weeks period on one-quarter of their full tax.

Gold Is Returned
There were signs that a larger part of the hoarded gold of the country, if indeed not most of it, already has been turned back into the Federal Reserve banks. The time limit set by the Treasury Department for return of gold expires March 17. It was estimated today that the return of gold throughout the country has exceeded $300,000,000 to date.

Every Federal Reserve bank district had open today a sufficient number of banks within its territory to provide new impetus for business and trade. The number of (Continued on Page 2)

TAX REFUND IN COUNTY TO WAIT
SUPREME COURTSupervisors Decide Decision Of Highest Court Is Needed

County Treasurer Sterling Schrock occupied practically the entire morning session of the Board of Supervisors today explaining many important phases of county taxation and introducing several subjects which were acted upon by the board. Chief among these was the order of the State Tax Commission at Springfield, requiring the attendance of all township Assessors of Lee county at a meeting to be held in Peoria next Tuesday, requiring that the county delay the expenses.

Upon motion of Supervisor Leon Hart, the board voted unanimously empowering the county treasurer to accompany the Assessors of the county to this meeting at the county's expense. The members of the Board of Review are also included in the delegation and it was expected that a bus would be chartered to take the Lee county delegation to the Peoria meeting.

Discuss Tax Refund
Another important subject presented to the board by the Treasurer was the payment of the illegal tax. Following brief discussion, it was decided that the refund would not be made until a decision of the Illinois Supreme Court is obtained for the protection of the County Treasurer. The Appellate court several days ago handed down an opinion in which it held that the refund should be paid to the taxpayers.

In this connection Treasurer Schrock explained that the illegal tax collected had not been kept in a separate fund, but had been included in the general fund. Supervisor Ortengren told the board that there was a possibility that a special levy may be necessary to meet this amount, but the board appeared to be of the opinion that the manner of payment would be included in the final decision of the Supreme Court.

Treasurer Schrock gave a very interesting report of the meeting which he attended Monday and Tuesday at Springfield, when 94 of the 102 County Treasurers and Supervisors of Assessments of the state were in attendance. The attendance of all township assessors and members of the Board of Review was again stressed and urged at the series of district meetings to be held next week at which time the Lee county delegation was assigned to the Peoria meeting.

Discuss Stock Values
The Treasurer reported that in six townships in the county last year the Assessors refused to assess poultry as provided for under the law, which places them subject to being penalized for such failure.

The subject of ascertaining a fair valuation for sheep and other stock killed by dogs was discussed before the board. Treasurer Schrock reported that while $15 was the top price allowed under sheep claims the scale of valuations placed in various townships of the county varied widely and he suggested a fairer appraisal in these claims. He told the board that 63 per cent of the total claims had been paid out this year.

County Judge Leach was asked to address the board on the subject of the county commission plan, and briefly he related the experiences of some of the southern Illinois counties which are now operating unsuccessfully under this plan, and stated that he personally was strongly opposed to the commission form.

Bishop Waldorf
Guest At Banquet

Bishop Ernest Lynn Waldorf of the Chicago area of the Methodist Episcopal church was the guest of honor at a Men's Club banquet at the Dixon church last evening, which was followed by an open meeting in the church auditorium, which he addressed entertainingly and impressively. At the supper, at which Leon Garrison presided, over a hundred men enjoyed the fine banquet and some impromptu talks by Rev. Knight of Rock Falls, Rev. Chenoweth of Morrison, and Rev. Goddard of Sterling. Visitors included the pastors of the Methodist churches at Amboy, Polo, Walnut, Ottawa and Kaneville and District Superintendent Hammitt of DeKalb, who presided at the open meeting.

FARM MEASURE, UNEMPLOYMENT, NEXT IN PLANS

President Expected To Send Messages About Them Tomorrow

Washington, March 15—(AP)—President Roosevelt probably will send messages to Congress tomorrow on emergency farm and unemployment measures for immediate action.

The employment program calls for recruiting of the idle in the cities for immediate work on reforestation of all sections of the country.

The farm plan will be a one-year experimental proposition looking to acreage control with a view to increasing the value of farm products.

Democratic leaders at the Capitol have given the President assurances that the great party majorities in both branches will work for expeditious enactment of both proposals.

First, however, they made plain that the concentration is on getting the economy and beer bills—both in the Senate—to him for signature.

The Senate may vote late today on the economy authority for the President, and next on the 32 beer bill passed late yesterday by the House.

No Price-Fixing
Under the latest farm relief plan, the bill does not include price-fixing. It does make provision for leasing on a broad scale of marginal lands to take them out of production.

Principles of the domestic allotment bill have been abandoned in favor of the new measure.

As for the cotton crop, the features of the ill-fated Smith bill of last session will be retained in the new bill to some extent.

The President believes 200,000 men can be put to work within three or four weeks on an all-year basis on his reforestation proposal.

He has Lewis Douglas, Director of the Budget, at work seeking to get the funds for this proposition as far as possible from unexpended balances of appropriations made for other government work.

Mr. Roosevelt regards the farm and unemployment measures as on the constructive side of his emergency program.

He feels that if anything is to be accomplished to help farmers now, action must be taken by Congress before this year's crops are in the ground.

Therefore, he believes it imperative that the farm bill go through before April.

His plans for reducing production of farm commodities go hand in hand with his ideas for an international agreement on wheat production.

It was learned today at the White House that the President has already undertaken unofficially steps to bring about a world agreement for control of wheat production, and is not waiting for the world economic conference.

He conferred recently in New York with the Minister from Canada, and it is believed that the subject was taken up then.

The matter of limiting production will be pursued actively through diplomatic channels and at the world economic conference.

The administration feels that such an agreement among the United States, Canada, Australia, Argentina, Russia and the Balkans, the principal wheat surplus producing nations, would stabilize and raise the world price of this product.

Seeks Resumption Of Rantoul Works

Washington, March 15—(AP)—Construction of half a million dollars' worth of barracks and officers' quarters at Chanute Field, the Air Corps training school camp near Rantoul, Ill., would be resumed under one of a series of bills introduced by Rep. James, Democrat of Michigan.

The series would reauthorize the construction work halted last session of Congress when the House and Senate joined in reallooting the general War Department funds several million dollars which were previously appropriated for construction work.

Inasmuch as the bills reallocate the money for construction purposes, the series was referred to the Military committee.

PERSONAL PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Willard Jones and new son, J. Willard Jones, Jr., left the Dixon hospital for their home Tuesday.

Miss Velma Weidman, who has been taking treatment at the Dixon hospital, returned to her home today in Franklin Grove, much improved in health.

Miss Anna Margaret Stansell, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Stansell who submitted to an operation for mastoid at the Dixon hospital a few days ago, is reported today to be making steady improvement, although still very ill.

James O'Malley, who has been seriously ill for some time, is able to be out again.

Nine members of the Board of Supervisors enjoyed a steak supper at the airport grill Tuesday evening.

The first lasted about five seconds. The second came in three quick jolts. It was preceded by a loud rumble at Huntington Park. At Long Beach it stopped a police station clock and jarred down loose bunks from buildings already partially wrecked. But apparently it did no serious damage.

Needs $25,000,000
Representatives of the civic organizations said that unless the act is amended, Long Beach must appeal to the nation through the Red Cross for approximately $25,000,000 to restore its private residences.

Congress already has agreed to appropriate $5,000,000 for victims of the earthquake, and the Red Cross has made an appeal for $500,000 for immediate relief. The damage to private homes is expected to approximate $25,000,000, the majority of the owners being in no financial condition at this time to restore them.

The rehabilitation committee, temporarily forgetting its civic pride, led the movement in asking that the act be amended.

The city council was rushing through an emergency building ordinance which called for increased safety precautions as well as for the principle of beautification.

With at least 75 per cent of the city's structures damaged, Charles S. Henderson, rehabilitation committee dictator, said the city will be unable to finance rehabilitation without outside help.

Moore, formerly editor of the Telegraph and now of Los Angeles, writes that his information that damage was confined mainly to downtown business building in the various areas affected and that school buildings to graft and poor construction. Mr. Moore is endeavoring to get in touch with Clarence Krimbl, former Dixonite, whose home is in Long Beach, and expects to learn further news about former Dixonites from him. LONG BEACH TO SEEK FINANCIAL AID TO REBUILD

Its Rehabilitation Board Forgets Its Civic Pride In Disaster

Long Beach, Cal., Mar. 15—(AP)—While repercussions of last Friday's destructive earthquake continued in milder shocks, civic organizations of Long Beach today planned a concerted appeal to Congress to amend the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act to allow aid for restoring private dwellings.

The forty second and forty third tremors of the series, strong shocks, apparently reaching all sections of the vast earthquake zone, were felt at 7:40 o'clock last night and at 1:14 A. M. today.

The first lasted about five seconds. The second came in three quick jolts. It was preceded by a loud rumble at Huntington Park. At Long Beach it stopped a police station clock and jarred down loose bunks from buildings already partially wrecked. But apparently it did no serious damage.

Sales Tax And Liquor Bills In Tough Sledding

Beer and hard liquor regulatory bills which were passed by the Senate yesterday, struck a snag in the House this morning, over the provision which would forbid the sale of hard liquor in Chicago, Springfield, Peoria, Decatur or any other town, within four miles of any university, college or normal school.

A. B. Lager, Democrat of Carlyle, had moved that both bills be advanced to second reading without committee reference, but withdrew that motion when the protests were made, and permitted their assignment to the committee on License and Regulation.

There was no objection made to Senate bill 277 which would authorize 3.05 per cent beer, but Senate bill 278, authorizing traffic in liquor should the state repeal the 18th amendment, started a string of complaints, not by those against the bill, but by those who objected to its restriction.

It is provided that no liquor may be sold within four miles of any university, college or normal school which restriction, Representative Libonati complained would stop sale in all of Chicago.

Predicts Passage
Gov. Henry Horner issued a statement last night predicting passage of the tax today. It is one of his favored measures and he is eager that it be enacted. The emergency clause so that it can be put into effect as soon as possible.

"I have high hopes," he said, "that the sales tax will pass, because of my confidence that the House, with a full sense of its responsibilities, will rise to the emergency."

He said the vast majorities favoring the tax had taken for granted it would be passed and had not urged their representatives to act favorably on it while organized minorities had attempted to make it appear that the people were opposed to the tax.

Ready for Gov. Horner's signature today was a bill making mandatory sworn statements from all applicants for state relief. It was passed by the Senate last night after one of the briefest debates of the present session.

Before the vote was taken Senator George Maypole read a letter from R. I. Pierce, secretary of the civic relief organization of Chicago Heights in which the latter stated that a check of relief lists with depositors' accounts in a closed bank there had disclosed the names of 56 persons receiving relief as having withdrawn money from the bank within 30 days of the bank's closing.

The accounts, Pierce's letter said, ranged from $300 to $6,500.

The bill is an amendment to the paupers' act, requiring sworn statements of the financial condition of persons applying for assistance in Cook and other counties not having township organizations.

CIVIL SERVICE BOARD UPHOLDS HORNER ORDERS

Appeal Of Deputies In Fire Marshal's Office Denied

Springfield, Ill., Mar. 15—(AP)—Upholding Governor Henry Horner in removing such civil service employees of the state as are unnecessary, under the retrenchment policy, ordered "in the interest of economy," the State Civil Service Commission today had on record an opinion denying the appeal of eight deputies of the State Fire Marshal.

Nine deputies appealed but one of them, James B. Elder, failed to prosecute his case. Their names, the Commission announced, will be placed at the head of the eligible list for appointment when any vacancies appear. The other eight are Ethelbert Finch, E. J. Bancroft, Reinhardt Tesch, Walter Doshier, R. D. Lytton, Harry Herring, Albert T. Higgins and Jacob G. Reil.

"Civil service," the commission's opinion said, "will not sanction the retention of an incompetent employee nor a competent employee where his services are no longer needed. Neither will the principles of civil service retain for an employee a salary greater than his or her work warrants."

"Should the administration of civil service, under the present trying times, ignore the above principles the state would be greatly hindered in carrying on its work efficiently. The right of any department of state to dispense with employees not needed in carrying on its work or to adjust or reduce the salaries of the employees retained in civil service are clearly recognized as essential to efficiently administer the affairs of state."

Springfield Miner Not Hurt By Bomb
Springfield, Ill., March 15—(AP)—A dynamite bomb exploded early today at the front of a building occupied by Andrew Blazis, a Progressive miner. It destroyed the front of the building, but injured no one, except to inflict a small glass cut on the left arm of Mrs. Blazis. Parts of the building were blown across the street.

TO A LONE PINE TREE
STRAIGHT and tall you stand,
A lonely sentinel
Outlined against a wintry sky,
Around your feet
The sleeping grasses lie
Beneath a coverlet of snow
Spread by Nature's hand.

Brave and tall you stand,
A silhouette dark against the night.
How still you keep!
As if you feared to awaken
Them that sleep.
While the pale moon sheds a silver light
Throughout the land.

O patient tree, you hold your head
so high,
Tell us, can you see the coming
Spring?
Can you smell the fragrance of the flowers?
Or hear the flutter of a robin's wing?
Then patiently we'll wait
E'en as you, with noble head held high,
Wait so trustfully "neath wintry sky."

(Serving Four)

4 tablespoons butter
4 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon paprika
1-4 teaspoon celery salt
1-2 cup cheese, cut fine
3 hard cooked eggs, sliced
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
Melt butter and flour. Add milk, cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir constantly. Add seasonings and cheese. Cook slowly until cheese has melted. Add eggs, cook 2 minutes. Pour over crackers, toast or mashed potato cakes, sprinkle with parsley.

Perfection Salad
(Using leftovers)

1 package lemon flavored gelatin mixture
1 cup boiling pineapple juice
1 cup boiling water
5 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons vinegar
1-2 teaspoon salt
1-4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped cabbage
1-4 cup chopped pimientos

Pour water and pineapple juice over gelatin mixture and stir until gelatin has dissolved. Add sugar and vinegar. Cool and allow to thicken a little. Add rest of ingredients and pour into glass mold which has been rinsed out with cold water. Set in cold place to stiffen. Unmold on lettuce and top with salad dressing. All cabbage can be used in place of celery and cabbage if desired. For variety add 1-2 cup of chopped pineapple.

Claudette Colbert

who white maitresse crepe blouse is handsome indeed. It is a tailored overblouse, belted, with a turn-down collar that extends to fashion lapels, with no notches. The sleeves are long and plain with turn-back cuffs, narrow. She wears a black satin scarf, in a big bow under her chin, pinned with a handsome pin with one ruby and a lot of diamonds. The belt is scarlet, the skirt black.

Adrienne Ames has a flower printed gold cloth blouse which she wears with a sleek black broadcloth suit, dressmaker style. The blouse has short, puffed sleeves and a demure round neckline and is belted with a little gold belt and fancy buckle.

Colleen Moore, playing tennis with her husband, Al Scott, on their own court, wore white pleated shorts and a white pique blouse with very short sleeves and a double-breasted front, with white pearl buttons.

Myrna Loy, at an afternoon tea, wore a black velvet suit with a handsome white brocaded satin blouse, made with insets of Duchesse lace and a little jabot from its low C front, edged with medallions of the lace.

Lorena Layson wears a scarlet crepe blouse with a new gray suit, and a demure round neckline and scarlet tie and hat, too.

Cheese Cake

Dough: Mix one cup flour, 1-2 teaspoon baking powder, 1-4 cup sugar. Work in 1 tablespoon butter, add one beaten egg. Roll 1-4 inch thick and line a greased pan.

Filling: two tablespoons butter, melted, add to cheese (one pound or pint of cottage cheese) press dry and put through colander, 1 heaping tablespoon cornstarch, 1 cup cream, rind of one lemon, juice of 1-2 lemons, 3 eggs.

Dissolve cornstarch in cream. Beat yolks with sugar, mix all together, beaten eggs last—place in hot oven to set, reduce heat. Bake 45 minutes to one hour.

Jellied Cheese Salad

1 pimiento, chopped
1-2 cup nut meats, chopped
1-2 cup green pepper, chopped
1-2 cup stuffed olives, chopped
1-2 lb. Am. cheese grated
1 cup mayonnaise
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons gelatin
1-2 cup cold water
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
1 cup whipped cream

Mix chopped pimiento, nuts, pepper, olives, cheese, mayonnaise, and lemon juice. Add gelatin soaked in cold water and dissolved over hot water. Add Worcestershire sauce, oil in whipped cream. Season to taste and pour in bread pan or similar mold or individual molds. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise to which a little whipped cream is added.

Something About Eggs and Omelets

By SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

Eggs are in the limelight these days and perhaps one of the most attractive ways to serve them is in omelets. For breakfast, luncheon or late supper, omelets always appear to good advantage. Plain or with a sauce, a delicate omelet is sure to please.

Anyone who is willing to measure accurately and take the trouble of cooking carefully can make a perfect omelet. Must be sure certain precautions must be taken, but the rules are simple and easy to follow. There is no mysterious secret or indescribable trick connected with omelet making although most cooks undertake it with some reluctance.

Remember that an omelet must never be allowed to stand at any stage of its preparation. It must be mixed quickly, cooked at once and served on a hot dish as soon as it is done.

With two types of omelets and their numerous variations, the hostess has a wide choice. The French omelet is made by beating the whole eggs while the puffy omelet is made by beating the whites and yolks separately. The French omelet usually is served with a filling of some sort spread over it just before folding. The puffy omelet often is served with a jelly or sometimes a sauce is poured around it after folding.

Fuffy Omelet

Four eggs, 2 tablespoons minute tapioca, 3-4 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 3 tablespoons butter.

Add salt and tapioca to milk and cook in double boiler for 15 minutes. Remove from heat and add yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon colored. Fold in whites of eggs beaten until stiff and dry. Melt 1 teaspoon butter in hot omelet pan or iron frying pan. Be sure the pan is completely coated with butter. Pour omelet mixture in hot pan and cook over a low fire until well puffed. Then place on the center grate of a hot oven to finish cooking the top. When firm to the touch the omelet is done. If it clings to the fingers like the beaten white of egg when it is touched, the omelet needs longer cooking. When done, hold the pan by the handle and make a shallow cut with spatula through the center at right angles to the handle. Run spatula around edges to be sure they are free from the pan. Place spatula under section of omelet nearest handle and fold over other half, tipping pan at the same time and sliding to a hot platter.

French Omelet

Four eggs, 3 tablespoons milk or water, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon white pepper, 4 teaspoons butter.

Beat eggs together until well mixed but not light. Add milk, salt and pepper and turn at once into hot buttered omelet pan or iron frying pan. As bubbles form, prick them with a fork and stir the top lightly to keep smooth and insure even cooking. As omelet becomes firm on the bottom, lift the edges gently with a fork and tip pan slightly to loosen omelet from the bottom. Cook over a low flame until firm. Fold and turn onto hot platter as in preceding recipe.

Phidians Heard All About Bells

On Tuesday afternoon, the Phidians Art Club met with Mrs. Geo. C. Dixon, at her home on East McKinney Street. Mrs. S. C. Barnard read the paper of the afternoon, the topic being "Bells That Became History." She told of the bells of everyday use, some of which, as the curfew, the dinner bell and the sleigh bell, have now passed into history. She then told of customs in different lands in regard to bells, and cited many of the noted and historic bells in this and foreign countries. The writer also gave interesting accounts of the making and playing of the highest type of bell, the carillon.

At the dining table, decorated in pink snapdragons, Mrs. Alice Beede and Miss Jean Hitchcock presided, dainty refreshments being served.

Candlelighters Hold Election Of Officers

The Candlelighters Aid Society of the Presbyterian church met on Friday with Mrs. Gracia Welch, with Mrs. R. S. Farrand, Mrs. William Lee, Mrs. John Marshall, and Mrs. Jesse Gardner as assistant hostesses.

A short business meeting and regular program were held. During the business meeting an election of officers for the ensuing year took place as follows:

Mrs. W. A. Rhodes—President

Mrs. Gracia Welch—Vice president

Mrs. W. S. Morris—Secretary

Miss Cora Persons—Treasurer

During the annual report given it was noted that an increase in membership had been gained the past year and that much work had been accomplished.

TODAY'S "REALITIES."

When the Japanese delegates withdrew from the recent League of Nations assembly, they expressed the pious hope that the world statesmen would give earnest attention to the "realities" of the situation in the far east.

Today, with all of Jehol province overrun by Japanese troops, with Chinese resistance almost entirely collapsed and with Japanese might rising completely victorious on the shores of the Yellow sea, these realities seem more solid and unarguable than ever.

Yet it is easy to be deceived. The realities of one moment of world history are the hazy phantoms of the next. Today a speculative man might wonder whether the reality is the victorious Japanese army or the slowly rising determination in men's hearts that the law of the jungle shall no longer be the rule for the conduct of international affairs.

At the moment this question looks silly. The Mikado's troops are irresistible. Such harbingers of the new sentiment as the League Covenant, the Kellogg treaty and the Nine-Power pact look about as effective as the treaty guaranteeing Belgium's integrity looked in the fall of 1914.

But we don't know how these things are going to look 50 years from now.

In the year 100 A. D., the one reality was the might of the Roman Empire. No one but a witless dreamer would have predicted that it would give way before an obscure religious sect known as Christianity.

In 1789 the reality in France was the king's government, buttressed by a huge army and centuries of tradition. The Parisian mob that tore down the Bastille was only a mob, after all; men said contemptuously that it could be quelled at any time by a whiff of grapeshot.

Today the reality is Japanese victory in Manchuria, and those who believe in law and order in international affairs are helpless dreamers. But what will it all look like a generation later?

HOOVER A PRIVATE CITIZEN.

As Herbert Hoover resumes the role of private citizen, it is worth remembering that he has not merely stepped out of the White House. He has ended a career of public service which has been unbroken for nearly 20 years.

The invasion of Belgium in 1914 gave Hoover his first great public job. When he finished with it President Wilson found vitally important war work for him at home, and when that was done there were more jobs, also of vast importance, to be done overseas again. Then he was summoned to the cabinet, where he served for eight years; and after that he put in four years in the White House amid extraordinary troublous times.

All in all, the man has served his country in an amazing variety of ways over a very long stretch of time; and now, as he goes back—for the first time in two decades—to the freedom of private life, his fellow-countrymen should let him know that they appreciate the way he has given himself.

HITLER'S VICTORY.

The German election seems to have confirmed Chancellor Hitler's hold on power. Failing to get a majority of all the votes cast, the Nazi chieftain nevertheless won a substantial plurality, and this fact will undoubtedly be reflected in a new firmness on the part of his government.

What this will mean to the course of German history during the coming year is something that lies in the realm of guesswork. That it foreshadows a dictatorship seems fairly obvious; that German democracy has been dealt a body blow seems equally clear. But just what form this Fascist dictatorship will take, and just how its actions will affect the rest of Europe, are things that no man can say at this moment.

At all events, it is pretty certain that German history for the year 1933 is going to contain some highly interesting reading matter.

I do not believe that in the name of the sacred word, individualism, a few powerful interests should be permitted to make industrial cannon fodder of the lives of half the population of the United States.—President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The time has come when we must call back into the precincts of this House the spirits of Jefferson, Lincoln, Cleveland, Roosevelt and Wilson to strengthen and inspire the members of the new Congress in the trying days ahead of us.—Representative Bankhead of Alabama.

Our supreme failure in bringing the world to its present spectacle of abject destitution in the presence of an abundance of food is not a failure to understand, but rather an ethical or moral failure.—Norman Thomas, Socialist.

A United States of Asia which would include Japan, China and Manchuria is the natural development in the Far East.—T. Taketomi, newly-appointed Japanese counselor to Ambassador Debuchi in Washington, D. C.

Searching For Dead in Long Beach Ruins

Disaster Strikes Southern California's Industrial Area

This bird's eye view map shows the rich industrial area of Los Angeles and Long Beach, where a series of earthquakes dealt death and destruction. Long Beach, with 143,000 population, suffered the heaviest death toll and many of its fine buildings and residences were reported in wreckage. The earth shocks did great material damage and cost lives also in San Pedro, man-made harbor for Los Angeles, and in nearby Los Angeles suburbs. Los Angeles proper, twenty miles from Long Beach, escaped heavy material damage but reported many casualties from falling buildings. Artist Joe King's map shows the affected area and the suburbs reported most damaged. The smaller map shows the relation of the most affected area to other environs of Los Angeles.

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The little wasps walked very straight, and at a funny hee, hee gait. They swung their stinger swords around at every sharp command.

The way they'd lift their little feet was quite an interesting treat. Said Scouty, "How they've learned all that I cannot understand."

"Why, they are just smart," the leader cried. "Of course it was hard when they first tried to strut along together, but they practiced day and night."

"I was the one who made them drill until they all had had their fill. I wouldn't let them stop until they learned to do the things right."

One of the little wasps then said, "I guess I am a sleepy-head. Please, can we stop this drilling so we all can take a much needed rest."

"We've walked until our feet are sore and we just can't walk any more. Please grant my little wish. We all have tried to do our best."

"That's only fair," said Scouty to the leader wasp. "I think that you have given us a wondrous show, but we have had enough."

"Let all the little wasps break ranks, and I am sure they'll give you thanks. There is no need to make them walk until they pant and puff."

"All right," replied the leader. Then he waved his stinger sword again and shouted, "Run away, you scamps. Climb up some great big tree."

"There you can snooze an hour or more." And off the little fellows tore. Just then a stranger joined the bunch. It was a bumble bee.

"Hello, there friends," the bee cried out. "What is this meeting all about?" And then he turned to Duncy and exclaimed "Let's shake hands, my son."

Poor Duncy did and how he jumped. He got a shock that thumped and thumped. "That's just my stinger," laughed the bee. "I just did that in fun."

(The Times have fun with some bees in the next story.)

Everyday Religion

THE FORGOTTEN MAN

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

A brief paragraph in the paper the other day gripped my heart, opening up a little-read chapter of human life. It told of a signalman on a railway, fifty-two years old, suddenly taken desperately ill in his box. He did manage, somehow, in spite of his pain, to stagger to a telephone and call for relief—and then died at his post! It is such a story as one has often read before, and will often—thank God!—read again.

Yet already the name of the signalman has slipped my mind; it is forgotten. It might have been Jones or Smith or Brown, it does not matter; it has gone like an autumn leaf swept by the wind into oblivion. The thing that matters, the thing that one does not forget, and which makes a lump climb up into my throat, is that an obscure, unknown man, whose very name is now lost, did not fail but did his duty with the weakness and awe of death upon him.

It is this spirit, active and un-failing in millions of humble, drum lives, in all walks of the world, which keeps the track clear and safe for the great traffic of the world. Often, on returning from a journey, one thinks—or ought to think—of the debt of gratitude we owe to a multitude of railroad men, hotel helpers, ship stewards, and workers of all sorts, for their patient courtesies, their cheery helpfulness, and their amazing good nature.

Not many of them get much out of life. No doubt they look back on thwarted ambitions and futile struggles. Like us they look forward like puzzled children, baffled by the mystery of life. Day by day they go the same old round of tiresome duties, through long years. Many of them endure the weary ache of tedium and loneliness. Yet how bravely they stick it out, accepting life as it comes, without complaint or rebellion! If that is not everyday religion, what is it?

Only once in a lifetime do we ordinary people get a chance to be faithful to the point of heroism. We do our daily task and see little glory in doing it well. Then suddenly one day the call comes to be faithful at the cost of bitter pain and daring effort, and the long years of inward discipline reveal their meaning. To the leaders of the world we pay homage; their names are constantly on our lips. But greater by far is the unsung fidelity and anonymous goodness of the unknown. No one remembers the name of the signalman; no one saw his victory—but the train thundered safely by the signal-box!

Daily Health Talk

EXERCISE AND DIGESTION

One of the old and widely accepted rules of good personal hygiene forbids indulgence in vigorous exercise or hard labor immediately following the ingestion of a meal. Some have even gone as far as to recommend a half-hour's recumbent rest following each meal.

School authorities have been particularly concerned in this matter. Many school children are required to walk home, lunch and return to school, all within a period of 40 to 60 minutes.

Still others have been concerned over the tendency of school children to use whatever spare time they find during the lunch period in playing games.

Recent carefully controlled experiments both here and abroad have shown that gentle exercise following immediately upon the ingestion of food does not interfere with digestion. On the contrary such exercise, indeed, may facilitate digestion.

On the other hand, vigorous exercise, particularly when associated with intense emotion, does interfere with digestion.

Strenuous muscular effort tends to draw the blood away from the digestive tract to the periphery of the body and to the working muscles. Such withdrawal of blood from the internal organs must interfere with the secretion of digestive juices by the stomach and other portions of the gastrointestinal tract.

It was found also that the acidity of the stomach secretions are lowered following strenuous muscular effort.

This is explained on the basis of the fact that during muscular exercise lactic acid is produced rapidly and accumulates in the blood temporarily disturbing the acid-alkaline balance of the blood and in this fashion affecting the secretions of the stomach.

The beneficial effects of gentle exercise on digestion are accounted for on the basis that moderate muscular exercise heightens the general metabolism, improves the circulation, and has a stimulating effect on the organism as a whole.

Forty Mexicans Victims Of Fire

Guadalajara, Mexico, March 14—(AP)—Forty-one persons were killed and 70 were gravely injured last night in a theater fire at the town of Ahualulco, not far from here.

A high tension wire was short circuited causing a fire in the Hidalgo theatre while a motion picture performance was in progress.

The panic stricken audience stampeded for the doors and 20 were trampled to death. Twenty others were electrocuted when the wire dropped across a hand rail along the front of the gallery.

Reynolds 27; Ghouls 16.
Polo 23; Ashton 15.

Last night's conclusion of the local Commercial League resulted in the 1932-33 championship being awarded to the Reynolds Wire outfit. Their 27-16 victory over the Ghouls gave them the honors. Polo knocked Ashton down a peg by whipping them 23-15. In the battle for last place Beiers' Loafers crashed in with a 34-20 victory.

The management of the League wishes to thank the high school officials, especially Athletic Director A. C. Bowers, for the splendid cooperation in completing the fifteen game schedule.

As an opener in Tuesday's ball games Beiers' Loafers won from the Shoppers, 34-20. In the first quarter the Loafers took a 7-1 lead and increased it to 14-7 at the half. After a 20-9 score at the close of the third period both teams counted heavily in the final quarter of play, the Beiers getting 14 points to the Shoppers' 11. Hasselberg was the scoring leader, netting seven baskets and three free tosses for seventeen points. J. Miller had eleven points for second place.

What was tagged to be a tough battle turned out to be a 27-16 victory for the Reynolds to enable them to annex the championship. It started out close with each crew making three points in the first eight-minute period. Then while the Ghouls were getting three more the Reynolds gained a lead of 12-6 at the half's rest. Outsourcing their opponents 8-1 the new titleholders went into a commanding lead of 20-7. The final was 27-16. Hilliker led the scoring with five baskets and two free shots. G. Lebre had ten points for runner-up.

The best contest of the show was the final in which Polo won over Ashton, 23-15. After a 4-4 first quarter Polo sprang into a 12-5 advantage at the half. Near the end of the game the Ashtonites came up to a 19-15 score but this marked their closest advance. Move and Gilbert each made three baskets and one free toss to lead the scorers.

Action and Other Spring Activities At Camp of National League Champs

FONSECA'S FILMS—
When Lew Fonseca was assigned to play first base this year as well as manage the White Sox, it was reasonable to expect that he would not have time to evolve as many big ideas as Lew contrived to think up last year.

But it appears that the California Canary, who once made the mistake of studying to become a grand opera tenor, still has time to indulge his fancies.

The other day Lew had movies taken of several of his White Sox athletes, such as Grube, Berry, Apple, Simmons and Lyons. The White Sox pitching candidates will be expected to study pictures of Lyons moving to catch a runner off first, with a view to improving their own technique.

Those of the Sox who are supposed to hit the ball will be shown films of Simmons stepping into a few.

IT'S A GOOD PLAN—
It sounds like a good plan. Lew also should send a cameraman to catch Lefty Grove delivering his fast one and to picture General Crowder casting a curve. The show could be improved by a few reels on Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig laying the bat against the old apple—maybe the White Sox.

handy fellow to have around this season.

Ryan came to the majors highly touted as a fielding marvel whose weakness with the stick might keep him from staying up. But he performed as expected in the field against the Cubs and amazed Bill Terry by batting a healthy .368 in the six game series.

WANT RUTH IN GAME
St. Petersburg, Fla., March 15—(AP)—The business management of the Boston Braves, who considered themselves the uncrowned world champions as a result of their victory over the New York Yankees, hope Babe Ruth would settle his salary differences before this afternoon's game.

Only 2,000 of the inhabitants of this winter baseball center paid in at Waterfront Park yesterday to watch the Ruth-less Yankees. Since the Braves are financially interested, they want the Yanks to employ all of their drawing power to pull in the customary receipts.

RIVAL YOUNGSTERS
Biloxi, Miss., March 15—(AP)—Bud Thomas and Ed Linke, 20-year-old contestants for the ninth pitching berth with the Washington Senators, were selected for mound duty today in the play-off game here with Atlanta.

Linke was chosen to start, with Thomas going on the hill after the fifth. Bud went in against the Atlanta Crackers last Saturday and allowed only one hit in the last three innings. Linke, although not "gifted" with orthodox pitching "form," has a fast delivery that gets him places.

the latter bought from Newark last mid-season but with New York experience, will do second and third string receiving chores.

Tommy Thevenow is the chief infield reservist with Adam Comorosky and "Woody" Jensen ready for call as utility outfielders.

Pitchers Brandt and Wertz held the New York Yankees to five hits and the Boston Braves won an exhibition game at St. Petersburg, Fla., 6-0.

Chicago, Mar. 15—(AP)—The pick of the 1933 Illinois high school basketball crop will go back into the mill tonight in eight sectional centers—their objective plays in the state title tournament at the University of Illinois next week.

Original schedules called for the opening battles tomorrow. However, when the shift from Springfield to Decatur was made, with its accompanying revised time schedule, the other seven sectional organizations obtained permission to open tonight. Unless revised again, no afternoon games will be played.

The final list includes 64 teams out of the 811 which started the district eliminations last week. Competition promised to be exceptionally keen in every center, and only one new indication of strength had been made. Lakeview champion of the northern division of the Chicago League, yesterday won the city championship by defeating Bowen of the south, 25 to 17. Both, however, are eligible for the sectional tournaments.

Of the 61 district champions, 27 are repeaters, having won their titles last year. Eight entrants in the sectionals, Peoria Central, Galesburg, Freeport, Springfield, Centralia, Canton, Johnston City and Decatur, have won state titles.

A bit of history unearthed by H. V. Porter, assistant to C. W. Whitten, manager of the state association revealed that Peoria Central and not Washington, won the first tournament, back in 1908. Washington had been credited with having won the original title.

Tonight's pairings:
At Carbondale: Willisville vs. Herrin; Petropolis vs. Hurst-Bush.
At Casey: Hutsonville vs. Lehigh; Danville vs. Lawrenceville.
At Freeport: Freeport vs. Sterling; De Pue vs. Rock Island.
At Joliet: Thornton (Harvey) vs. Waukegan; Downers Grove vs. Bowen.
At Normal: Streator vs. Logansport; University High vs. Ramothul.
At Peoria: Kingman (Peoria) vs. Beardstown; Alpha vs. East Peoria.
At Salem: Centralia vs. Jerseyville; Nokomis vs. Granite City.
At Decatur: Hull vs. Springfield; Macomb vs. Havana.

SCHMELING AND BAER TO BATTLE IN N. Y. JUNE 1st

Promoter Jack Dempsey To Stage His Card In Big Ball Park

New York, Mar. 15—(AP)—Jack Dempsey has drawn first blood in the intricate battle of wits he is waging with Jimmy Johnston of Madison Square Garden—a promotional duel that may become more interesting than the big heavyweight attractions each is sponsoring.

Dempsey received formal sanction from the New York State Athletic Commission for his Max Schmeling-Max Baer bout here on Thursday June 1, either in the Yankee Stadium or the Polo Grounds, despite the fact that Johnston, sponsoring a heavyweight title bout between Jack Sharkey and Primo Carnera, had asked the commission for prior rights to all Thursday dates during the outdoor season.

Johnston won a major victory, however, when the commission considered a previous stand and gave formal consent to the Carnera-Sharkey match. The commission had ruled, after the death of Ernie Schaaf, that Carnera must restrict his competitive activities to the "dreadnaught" class, consisting of heavyweights weighing 220 pounds or more.

May Ask Date
Johnston probably will go before the commission Friday and apply for a specific date for the title match, possibly as early as May 18. That would represent an extreme gamble with the weather but there is little doubt that both Johnston and Dempsey are jockeying for the first crack at Mr. John H. Fan's none-too-fat pocketbook.

General John J. Phelan, chairman of the commission, had announced at the conclusion of yesterday's meeting that the Garden had been granted permission to hold the championship fight on any Thursday in June, except June 1. Johnston, however, said this was in error.

"I did not ask the commission for any specific date for the fight," he explained. "I did ask for permission to conduct outdoor shows on Thursday nights. When I was told I must wait until summer dates were allotted I pointed out that a specific date had been granted for the Schmeling-Baer fight. I was told that if I would apply for a definite date for the Sharkey-Carnera fight it would be granted, and I promised to return Friday with my application."

The championship feature of the Sharkey-Carnera match led the commission to reconsider its partial ban on Carnera, it was explained by Secretary Bert Strand.

McReynolds Victor In Close Contest
Several Dixon boxing fans went to Rockford last evening and witnessed the benefit program in which Elwood "Kid" McReynolds of this city figured in one of the main bouts, winning in a close fight with Nester Bruggan. The entire program was filled with excitement, from all reports, there having been plenty of clever boxing, hard punching and toe to toe battling.

The McReynolds-Burgan bout stirred up the fans to the great degree, as this pair furnished plenty of action from start to finish, and the decision being awarded to the local flash after a trio of bitterly contested rounds. Elwood started out fast, winning the opening round by a good margin and shading his opponent in the second. In the third and final round, the C. Y. O. welterweight staged a great rally and had the better of the milling. It was a close fight, so close that the decisions was bound to bring forth some boing.

COMPTON NEWS

By Leslie G. Archer

Compton Prof. D. C. Thompson has announced the honor roll for the Compton high school for the past month. The list is composed of the following—Allen McClintock, Mildred Flerschuetz, Alta Cook, Floyd Archer, Delta Chaon, Ruth Jacobs, Lester Kaufman, Elizabeth Swope, Theodore Swope, Clement Buchanan, Arthur Rhodas, Eldo Johnson and Robert Cook.

Special honor for an average of 95 or better goes to Leo Eggers.

The blizzard in February not only spoiled some grades but ruined several attendance records as well. The attendance for February was best among the Freshmen, the sophomores followed, the juniors placing last.

In the grades the following honor roll has been announced:

Eighth grade—Cicora Otterbach, and Mabel Janssen.

Seventh grade—Ted Nelson and Raymond Cook.

Sixth grade—George Ogilvie, Dale Archer and Guy Mireley.

Fifth grade—Beatrice Chaon, Lorraine Grosshans, George Albert Richardson.

In the primary department the following honor roll was made:

First grade—Marjorie Chaon, Jimmie Corwin and Robert Bernardin.

Second grade—Dolores Eddy and Dorothy Untz.

Fourth grade—Betty Bauer and Darlene Davis.

Miss Margaret Ott of Watertown Wisconsin, visited here over Saturday and Sunday with her brother, W. E. Ott.

Don't forget the "Go-Getters" St. Patrick's parties Thursday evening, March 16th. Pinchols will be played at the L. D. Miller home and "500" at the Mrs. Mae Bradshaw home, instead of the J. W. Banks home as previously stated.

For the past several weeks this column has devoted some space to the local tax situation, especially that part which maintains our local school system. It has been brought out where each part of the tax dollar is spent.

In comparison with other states, according to the latest figures—out of each dollar of income the school bill for Illinois was 2-1-4 cents; Indiana 4 cents; Iowa 3-3-4 cents; Kansas 4-1-4 cents; North Dakota 6 cents. The average of the United States was 2-3-4 cents. In looking over the figures the following question has been asked: "Can we afford schools?"

For each dollar that her people spend, (meaning state of Illinois), for candy, gum, soft drinks and ice cream, Illinois spends 94 cents on public schools.

For each dollar devoted to the passenger autos of the state, the school system of Illinois costs 20 cents.

The Illinois bill for jewelry, cosmetics, and perfumes is almost half that for schools.

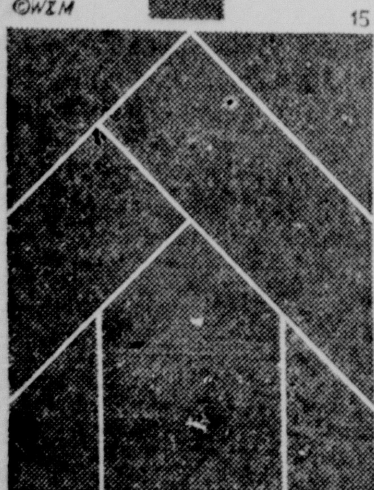

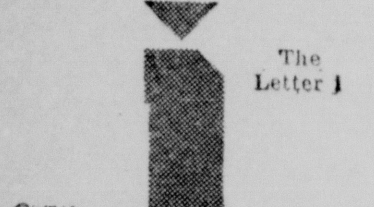

For each dollar spent for grade and high schools in Illinois, her people spend $1.23 for tobacco.

William Ulrich, the oldest of the five sons of Peter Ulrich and Elizabeth Wendel Ulrich, was born in Clarion township on July 8th, 1855. He was baptized in early infancy. Together with a class of fourteen, he was confirmed on Palm Sunday, 1870, by Rev. Ad. of St. John's church of Mendota. On February 20, 1877, he was united in marriage with Catherine Passig, by the same pastor who had confirmed him. Only a few weeks later the young couple settled on a farm southeast of Compton, where B. P. Ulrich now lives. For a little less than 19 years this was their home, and scene of their greatest joy and also the scene of their deepest sorrow. It was here that their three children were born and spent their childhood days, and it was here that one of these children, Carrie, aged 14, was severed from them by death. In December 1895 they retired to Mendota and lived there for approximately four years. They moved to Compton and since 1899 have made their home here. On the 20th of last month the departed and his devoted helpmate were privileged to observe the 56th anniversary of their wedding day.

Mr. Ulrich took an active and intelligent interest in affairs of the community and served this community ably in various capacities. While he still lived on the farm, and again after making his home in Compton, he served as School Trustee for about 37 years. From 1917 until 1931 he was Vice President of the First National Bank of Compton. Since then he had been President of that institution. His willingness to apply his talents in behalf of the common welfare was not confined to the secular interests of the community. He recognized how essential to the healthy development of the civil and commercial life of a community, are true spiritual values and standards. That made him an appreciative and loyal church member. He valued the privileges of church membership and willingly assumed its obligations. His affiliation with the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Brooklyn Township dates back to 1878, except the short time he resided in Mendota, he has been an active member since that time. He served the congregation as Secretary repeatedly. When the church building was erected in 1904 he was chosen as Treasurer of the Building Committee. Later, in 1924, when a basement was put under the church, he served as chairman of the committee in charge of that undertaking.

Until quite recently the departed was unusually active and alert for a man of his age. However, during the last months he began to fail perceptibly. This gradual decline of his strength persisted in spite of the tender concern and loving care with which he was surrounded. He was peacefully summoned Home, March 10th, 1933 at the age of 77 years, 8 months, and two days.

He is survived by his devoted wife, Mrs. Catherine Ulrich, one daughter, Mrs. Lottie Heimen, one son, B. P. Ulrich; four grandchildren, Walter, Leona and Lester Heimen, and Virginia Mae Ulrich, two great-grandchildren, Marvin and Jerinne Heiman, all of Compton and a half sister, Miss Katie Ulrich, LaMoille, Ill. Four brothers and one sister preceded him in death. Funeral services will be held at his late home on March 13, at 1 P. M., and from the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Brooklyn township at 1:30. Interment was made in the Lutheran cemetery at Mendota. Rev. L. J. Grosshans, officiating.

Bruce W. Gilmore attended a meeting of the B. J. Stumm General Life Insurance Agency of the Northwestern Mutual Life Ins. Company, held at the Country Club at Aurora on last Friday.

Mrs. Emma D. Archer is somewhat improved after being confined to her bed since January 15th. Miss Vera Cook spent the week end here at her home, and returned to her studies at Knox College on Monday.

Miss Evelyn Gilmore is spending a few days visiting with friends in Chicago. She expects to return to her home here late this week.

Miss V. Helen Fox and her mother, Mrs. Emma Fox, formerly of Compton were heard over station KTHP, Hot Springs, Arkansas, Monday evening at 9:00. They were broadcasting a comedy sketch which was written by Miss Fox, who has had considerable success in this work since her departure from Compton. She has been appearing at this station for the past year, on the children's afternoon program.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative, safe and pleasant.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

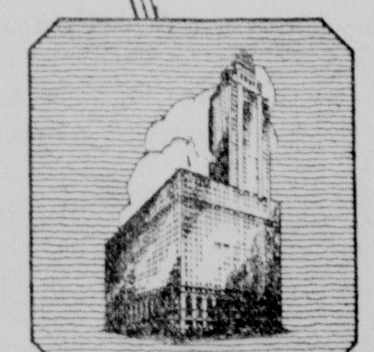

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Voluntary Use Of "Hi-ball" Spreading

Washington, Mar. 15 —(AP)—Even if Congress refuses to act on the proposal to make it necessary to dilute every gallon of gasoline with 10 per cent of alcohol manufactured from American farm products, Rep. Everett M. Dirksen, (Republican of Pekin, Ill.) said today the movement might prove a success in Illinois. Iowa, and other corn belt states, as a voluntary proposition.

"So many bills are being presented to the House," he continued, "that I don't think I'll add another to the list. Too many bills would only confuse the issue."

He referred to those already presented by Rep. John T. Backbee, Republican of Rockford, Ill., and Rep. D. C. Dobbins, Democrat of Champaign, Ill.

People Want Everglades As National Park

Washington, D. C.—America has the desire to procure a vast area for a national park in the famous and mysterious Everglades of Florida, a park that will be unique in this country, according to a bulletin of the American Game Association. The flora and fauna are tropical and semi-tropical. There is no area supporting such wildlife anywhere else in the United States. And the area for the park can be secured without cost. It can be procured merely by the House of Congress passing House Bill No. 3063, which is favorably reported to it by the Public Lands Committee. Senate Bill No. 476, advocating the acquisition of the area for a national park, passed the Senate unanimously.

If the House passes its bill, Florida, it is understood, will pass legislation as is necessary, and make a gift of the area to the United States. The land is now privately owned.

"Under private and state ownership the native wildlife, both plant and animal, will continue to be ruthlessly destroyed; the flora by commercial plant collectors who have already seriously reduced its rare orchids, palms and other plants in many sections of the area; and the fauna by hunters, trappers and thoughtless tourists who are together destroying the animal life of accessible sections and every year penetrating further into the interior of this region," according to Ernest F. Coe, executive chairman of the Everglades National Park Association.

Mr. Coe and his Association would protect the area's present natural balance to "preserve biological features not rivaled in the world for interest." Fire protection would be provided, once the area becomes a national park. "These fires," according to Mr. Coe, "which are devastating the choicest forest areas and open glades are started by hunters to drive game from cover, and by thoughtless tourists without provision for preventing those fires and stopping them when started, this land, America's only continental tropical land will go the way of so many other natural sanctuaries and be irreversibly lost."

Bank Reform Plan Shocks Wall St.

Wall Street was left gasping at the sweeping banking reforms proposed by W. A. R. Bickenbach of Oregon filled the pulp of the Presbyterian church Sunday in the absence of Rev. J. L. Tait who is in Detroit, Mich. Rev. Bickenbach was unable to be here for the Sunday services on account of a severe storm in Detroit.

Mrs. Cora Bomberger who spent the winter in Dixon with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Kness, returned home Monday.

O. E. Metzler spent Sunday in Leaf River with his son, J. A. Metzler and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Strite and daughter Eileen were dinner guests in the Ralph Avery home Sunday.

Rock Island Man Wants To Serve

Washington, March 15—(AP)—Rep. Chester Thompson, Democrat of Rock Island, said his reason for applying for appointment to the Military Affairs committee was to aid constituents interested in the Rock Island arsenal.

"That institution," he said, "is one of the greatest in my district. We're proud of it. I'm a new member, and since it would be difficult for me to get on more important committees, I figured I could serve my district best on the military."

Sidelights In News In Capital Of United States

By HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON — If President Roosevelt has left one outstanding impression with those with whom he has come in contact during these first few days in the White House, it is that he will not permit the presidency to make of him other than what he really is.

That's what struck those 150 or so newspapermen so forcefully when they filed into the executive offices on the occasion of his first formal press conference as President.

It was formal only to the extent that the hour was set for 10 o'clock in the morning and was especially for those who represented afternoon newspapers. In all other respects the meeting might have been a social reception in a drawing room.

From the moment they filed in singly to shake his hand until they left applauding loudly their approval of the conduct of the conference there was an air of ease and informality that left them all pleased and a bit surprised.

THE HUMAN TOUCH—

It was an unusual thing for the White House. President Roosevelt recognized old faces, called men by their names and welcomed them. Once he was addressed as "Governor." He stopped and called out gaily to the others:

"He's still calling me Governor. I hope he keeps it up."

Perhaps the most human thing those newspapermen observed during that conference and the thing that convinced them he intends to remain Franklin Roosevelt even if President occurred just as the conference got under way. As a matter of fact, he had already started outlining future procedure.

Mrs. Roosevelt pushed through to his side and began plucking his sleeve. At first he was unaware of her presence, but finally paused and she whispered to him.

SOMETHING TO DECIDE—

"Tell him to come in now," said the President. She whispered back that "he" wouldn't. "Then tell him to wait 15 minutes," he replied. Again she whispered that "he" couldn't. "Then tell him," the President said, "he must take his choice—either come in now or wait 15 minutes." And he laughed outright.

Shortly afterwards his son Elliott appeared blushing and smiling and went up to his father. The President quickly put his right arm around him, drew him down and kissed him lightly. In an instant the son was gone.

"Just my boy," exclaimed the President to the waiting newspapermen. "He's leaving for Arizona."

That crowd of men, sometimes described as cynical and hardboiled had never witnessed anything quite like it before.

Federal Control Of Banking Likely

Chicago, March 15—(AP)—Garfield V. Cox, Professor of Finance at the University of Chicago, said there is strong reason to believe the culmination of the bank crisis March 3 had shortened the business depression.

"Without confidence in the banks there was no hope for business recovery," he said, speaking at the City Club. He believed President Roosevelt acted "with commendable wisdom" and called the emergency bank legislation a "heartening achievement."

Prof. Cox predicted the permanent banking legislation the President will soon recommend will call for unification under Federal control of the entire banking system and sanction branch banking.

A BOOK A DAY

"Marriage in Heaven," by Ronald Fraser, will seem to many readers a book of rare delicacy, beauty and insight. To others—a larger number, perhaps—it will seem like a great many words about practically nothing.

It is the story of a love affair, uncomplicated and simple, on the surface. A young artist falls in love with a girl, marries her, has a series of petty quarrels with her, leaves her, finds that he can't live without her, and comes back to her; and the book closes with the implicit assurance that they all lived happily ever after.

That, in bare outline, is the story. As a matter of fact, it's a lot of stories—about half of all the

Japanese Troops In Action

With drawn bayonets, Japanese soldiers garriboed at Chaoyangsu move out over the snow-covered ground to attack the Chinese in the Jehoi campaign.

English novels that have been published in the past decade. But Mr. Fraser's work is a cut above the average.

His hero and heroine are tormented by a vision of the ideal. The first moments of their love were utterly rapturous; and neither could endure it when the slow pace of day-to-day living brought them, inevitably, down out of the Elysian fields into the ordinary workaday world. So they fought over nothing; at times they almost hated each other for being unable to sustain the high pitch of those first hours. The story is really the description of how they found a way to preserve the splendor of their vision.

Mr. Fraser does get his feet a long way off the ground. Some will find his book rarely beautiful. Others, I fear, will be badly bored by it.

Here's Great News For Patrons Of P. O.

Washington, March 15—(AP)—The Postoffice Department doesn't want anyone growing in the future about postoffices supplying the public with pens that won't write.

In an official order, Sillman Evans, the new Fourth Assistant Postmaster General, has directed that an ample supply of fresh pen points be made available at all postoffices.

The department normally uses 4,557,600 points annually.

METROPOLITAN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY

Annual Report to the Holders of 42,672,418 Life Insurance Policies

DURING the past year this Company has maintained its strong position in the life insurance field.

Metropolitan's life insurance issued, revived and increased in 1932 amounted to more than Three and a Quarter Billion Dollars.

The income for 1932, the largest in the Company's history, showed an increase over the previous year of $14,859,229.33 and amounted to $921,953,100.70.

The Metropolitan in 1932

- paid to policyholders $562,804,650.79
- added to policy reserves $109,755,306.00
- set aside for dividends to policyholders in 1933, $101,685,956.00
- increased its contingency reserve by $26,550,000.00
- increased its surplus by $13,541,501.95.

The assets of the Company at the end of 1932 were $3,769,372,425.28, an increase of $179,256,771.56 during 1932. New investments made in 1932 amounted to more than $300,000,000 and cash on hand was increased to $64,025,923.35.

After making provision for policy reserves and other liabilities, and after the apportionment of $101,685,956 for dividends, the Company held, on December 31st, 1932, a contingency reserve of $43,000,000, and a surplus of $240,811,739.47—a total of $283,811,739.47.

The strength of a life insurance company lies in the spread of its obligations over a long period of years and in a sound policy of diversification of investment pursued through the years under expert guidance and in accordance with conservative investment limitations prescribed by law.

Metropolitan assets consist of

Cash	1.70%
Bonds—Federal, State and Municipal	7.70%
Bonds—Railroad	18.00%
Bonds—Public Utility	9.03%
Bonds—Miscellaneous	3.28%
Stocks—(Preferred 2.028%; Common 0.002%)	2.03%
Mortgages on Real Estate
City 34.42%; Farm 4.38%	38.80%
Real Estate (including foreclosed properties)	2.78%
Loans to Policyholders	12.63%
Premiums, deferred and in course of collection	2.01%
Interest due and accrued. Rents, etc.	2.04%

The favorable mortality experience of the Company in 1932 has followed its careful selection of business and the continuation of its health and welfare activities.

During the year 1932 many leading corporations of the country paid millions of dollars to the Company for contracts covering their employees for Group Life, Health and Accident protection and for future Retirement Income under some of which continuing payments on the part of the Metropolitan will extend into the next century.

Life insurance is the most effective way of providing for the future of one's self and one's dependents. Through the Metropolitan approximately one-fifth of the people of the United States and Canada are making such provision.

RED ROUGH HANDS

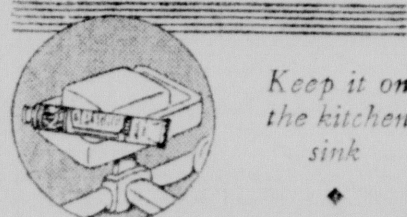

MADE SOFT AND LOVELY
When you use this Marvelous New Greaseless Hand Cream!

NO LONGER must the woman who does her own work fear ugly red hands. No longer must she, in order to protect them when washing dishes in the kitchen or underthings in the bathroom, wear clumsy rubber gloves that are such a nuisance.

HERE is a dainty greaseless hand cream designed especially to keep your hands soft and beautiful. You can go from clearing up the dinner things directly to the bridge table without being self-conscious, or having to hide your hands in your lap.

AND it's so simple to use—and economical, too. Just a half inch pressed into the palm of each hand and then rubbed over the entire surface, both before and after the household work you have to do, and your hands keep their youthful appearance. Antiseptic, too, slight cuts and abrasions are healed before next morning.

KEEP a big generous tube in the kitchen and one in the bathroom as well. A twenty-five cent tube will last nearly two months—a slight cost to protect the real beauty of your hands!

AMERICAN WHO WAS KNIGHTED DIED TUESDAY

Sir Henry W. Thornton Won Fame Through Rail Service

New York, March 15.—(AP)—Sir Henry W. Thornton, former chairman of the Canadian National Railways, died Tuesday afternoon at the age of 62.

Drafting of Henry Worth Thornton from the United States to be general manager of the Great Eastern Railway provoked resentment and criticism throughout England.

It was due, perhaps, not so much because Thornton was an American trained railroad manager but to the announcement at the time that a man big enough to straighten out the badly managed transit line could not be found in England.

Early in 1914 the Great Eastern Railway found itself in such difficulties that it was determined that a super-general manager was needed to set things right again. The British railroad field had been scanned, but no one was found to measure up to the job.

England Aroused

Lord Claude Hamilton, chairman of the aristocratic board of directors, then hired Thornton, the American, and made the announce-profits. By the end of the third year of his leadership he succeeded in doing that, the net operating profits for 1925 being in the neighborhood of $30,000,000.

Sir Henry was born at Logansport, Ind., November 6, 1871, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Thornton. He was educated at St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., and the University of Pennsylvania. He was married twice, his first wife being Miss Virginia Dixie Blair of Newcastle, Pa. They had one son and one daughter. In 1926 he married Miss Martha Watriss of New York.

Great School Record

During his four years at the University of Pennsylvania, where he took the engineering course, Sir Henry was conspicuous not only as a brilliant student but as an athlete as well. At center and the two guard positions on the football team he became a shot-putter and his feats as a sprinter made a long and brilliant contribution to "Old Penn's" athletic records. After his graduation he coached the football team of Vanderbilt University for a season.

He began his railroad career in 1896 as a draftsman for the Pennsylvania railroad. Five years later he became a division superintendent in charge of the Akron and Columbus Railroad and advanced steadily until 1911, when he was named general superintendent of the Long Island railroad. What he accomplished in three years in that position led to his recommendation for the big job in England.

Probably no other man ever took up such a job under greater difficulties. Beginning under an appointment that generally was unpopular and conditions throughout the system anything but favorable, the coming of the World War added to his burdens. An executive committee of railroad managers was formed to handle war traffic, but Thornton was not included.

Instead of showing resentment at the apparent slight, Sir Henry went on guiding the Great Eastern and doing his best to speed men and munitions to France. Presently, he was included in the control committee. Then he became a lieutenant colonel in the Royal Engineers and consequently more intimately concerned in the operation of all roads.

Promoted to colonel, he was placed in charge of Channel transports and in 1916 he became deputy director of inland water transportation in charge of navigation in Northern France, Egypt and Mesopotamia. The next year he was raised to Assistant Director General of movements and railways with headquarters in Paris and a little later was made Deputy Director-General with the rank of Brigadier General. In 1918 he was named Inspector General of Transportation with the rank of Major General. In that position he had charge of all the army transportation on the continent.

It was the belief of Sir Henry that the successful operation of a railroad depended upon co-operation of everybody connected with the road from the head down to the man filling the lowliest laborer's position. With such co-working he contended, the railroad's most important function, service, would ment that aroused all England. One newspaper commented: "Great Britain has not in many years had such a shock to her pride." Another printed several letters which were outspoken in their criticism of Lord Hamilton's choice and his remark about the ability of England's young men. A Labor member of Parliament referred to Thornton as "an undesirable alien."

The American manager of the Great Eastern assumed his duties quietly in the spring of 1914. By degrees he won a measure of public confidence. Then came August of that year with the outbreak of the World War and immediately there was a pressure on England's roads such as they never before had known.

Held High Rank

What Thornton did in the next four years directing transportation in the cause of the Allies won for him the distinguished service medal of his native country, cross of officer in the Order of Leopold of Belgium and knighthood in the Order of the British Empire, bestowed upon him by King George. In addition he was the only American to hold high rank on the staff of the late Earl Haig.

Having cured the ills of one British railroad system, the former American, now Sir Henry Worth Thornton, K. B. E., was called upon to tackle another problem regarded bigger and more difficult than the one he had solved in England. In 1922 he was chosen chairman and president of the Canadian National Railways, thus becoming head of the largest railway system on the North American continent.

In addition to 22,000 miles of railroad lines there came under his supervision the allied merchant marine of steamship lines, hotels and express companies. His big job was to change annual deficits on account of operation to operating
